following account of a chase after : The fact that the Indians had but three horses, and were entirely destitute of tire tarms, was the only thing that prevented the slage from being cut off and the inmates massured. The Indians, to the number of seventy, were discovered approaching the road from a pass in the mountains, with the evident Intention of getting abead of the stage. The driver crowded the number to their number, and succeeded in making such rapid headway hals hitched to the bushes, to be mounted in turn by athers on foot. By these reasts they succeeded in keeping a party if leesh men constantly around the costch. This running fight was kept up for more an nine miles, and the Indians succeeded whee in stopping the stage, and ran it out of the read several times. They wounded he side driver in the thigh with an arrow, and not seriously, and also upon of the row, and not seriously, and also upon of the row.

When the colonies achieved their independence of the "mother country" which up to the last they fondly called hery they did not desire to retain the British flag or any at all similar to it. Yet mader that flag they had been plauted, and nurtured, and fostered. Under that flag they had been plauted, and nurtured, and fostered. TCESDAY MORNING..... ...MARCH 12.

Fort Sumter Abandoned. The telegraph advised us a few day since that Major Annexson had provisions for his men sufficient to last but a few days, and that he had advised the Department that it would be impossible for them to reinforce him unless they should back the attempt to do so with fifteen thousand men. This amounted, substantially, to information that if not ordered to evacu ate the Fort, he would be compelled to surrender; for the Government has not the means indicated at its command to enable it to give-him aid.

This morning the dispatches say it is rumored that the troops have been ordered from both Sumter and Pickens. In view of the facts mentloued above, this is prob ably true in regard to the former. Shou Pickens be given up, If it is provisioned and defended, as we have been informed for a siege, the action of the Government monnts to a recognition of the indeper dence of the seceded States, without blood shed, which would rob disunion of the evilthat would llow from the conflict which has been looked upon as almost inevitable upon the happening of secession. Sincere ly do we hope that such may be the case

The Submissionists, whose effort to deceive the people of Kentucky, to delude them luto positions at onec fais and fatal, and to prevail on them to descri their Southern brethren and trust their bil erties and their property to the half pleds ed hour of a perfidions and implacable enemy, have been concerted, persistent, and widespread, an alarmed and maddened because at last the friends of Souther honor, of Southern rights, and of Southern Institutions are beginning to understand the objects and comprehend the purpose of the reckless and desperate politicians port. in our midst who are bending all their energies and straining every nerve to its for what is to come; but they should be utmost to fasten Kentucky to the Free States of the North forever, at the sacri fice of her self-respect, of her domestic

It is true, that the result of these efforts of the leaders of the "left wing" of the Abmanagement a factitions public scutiment was created, which influenced many members of that honorable body, and induced them to give votes in accordance with what they were made to believe were the wishes of their constituents, which, when co rectly informed, they will be glad to re verse when they assemble again.

We all know that the hotels of the cap tal were filled and the lobbies of the Leg-Islature crowded by fossil politicians summoned from the retirement to which ald in stifling the voice of the peogathered from the East and the West from eive doctrines; but it must not expect true of the session; and when particular mem Moreover, the plainest policy will lead I bers refused to be convinced by the wishes to allow a difference of sentlment on this cians that surrounded them, consultations of those who stand up for the rights of were held, and the mails and the telegral k Kentucky and of Kentuckians. were used to bring in haste others, whom, It was believed, would be more successful. of this kind was not without effect; and in part through these efforts, and in part

The panic has reached our justice of their cause, and to the intelligence of the people, they made no organized and no systematic attempt to thwait the machinations of their encinies; and though the just man is thrice armed, the arts and management of the Spinmission leaders prevailed over the undisciplined forces of those who "know their rights, and knowing dare maintain them."

Since the Legislature took a recess tho Peace Conference has closed its labors the friends of the Uniou; an Abolition up its mind to griu and bear it. President has proclaimed that the Chicago platform is his "law," and summoned to his councils the most notorious enemles of the constitutional rights of the South: the capital of a common country is filled with the minions and tools of a hostile power; and all hope of peace has fled.

The representatives of our people are soon to re-assemble-to meet under circumstances of peculiar responsibility and difficulty; and we know that again the mischievous arts of the determined allies of the Administration forces will be brought to bear against the dearest interests of our beloved Commonwealth.

And when the friends of Kentucky, the friends of the South, the Irieuds of the Constitution make a movement toward a proper organization of their forces for the struggle which can no longer be postponed, the Submissionists, conscious of their weakness, of the rottenness of their cause. and of their approaching final overthrow, betray their fears by loudness of their outerics and the madness with which they insult and flout the intelligence of the people, whom they despise, but whose Irresistible power they dread.

Friends of the constitutional rights of the States, the battle is set, and on the result of the conflict depends the future of Kentucky and the safety and happiness of her people. If you are just to yourselves, and worthy of the privileges and immunitles you inherited, the result rannot lo doubtful: your enemies will soon call on the rocks and mountains to hide them .-Should you hesitate or falter, should voi prove recreant in the noblest cause in which freemen ever enlisted, then, better for you and your children had you never

We hope our friends in all parts of the State, and particularly those having control of newspapers triendly to the object of the meeting, will give as extensive cir culation as possible to the call that has been made for a Convention of the friends of the constitutional rights of the Slaveholding States to meet at Fraukfort on the

Nothing is left undone that can be done o prejudice the cause of the South or to coucile our people to the hostile domiation of a sectional and maddened maority, who have trampled on the compact nade by our lathers and theirs, and disrearded all the ties that united the State f the Confederacy In one body politic, lu heir march to power.

[From the Lexington Statesman] The Inaugural.

Unquestionably to the popular mind the leading Idea of the Inaugural Address of Mr. Lincoln is the distinct declaration that the present Government will not recognize the fact of secession, or revolution, but will project its measures upon the contemplation of a continuing union of all the States Ho of a continuing union of all the States. He says that a disruption of the Federal Union is attempted, but that in contemplation of universal law and of the Constitution, it is perpetual and indissoluble. He asserts that no State can, upon its own more motion, lawfully get out of the Union, and that resolutions and ordinances to that elect are yold recontinuing and insurance. and that resolutions and ordinances to that effect are vold, revolutionary, and insurrectionary. As President of the United States, therefore, he will ignore the solemn acts of the people of seven States consummated lu sovereignty conventions, and will undertake to hold them still subject to the laws of this Government. He will not officially know or recognize the Confederation of those States, but will, to the extent of his ability, see that the laws are excepted to bility, see that the laws are executed 1.

ability, see that the laws are executed by all the States.

This exposition of his policy is received in the Southern States as a Declaration of Hor. That it will end in civil war, is so manifest as to need no argument. Mr. Lincoln says there need be none, unless to be loreed upen the national authority. We do not understand the importance he would attach to the mode in which, or the party by whom, hostilities are to commence, it will matter little to the people to know who fires the first gnu. The horrors of exil war are not averted by shifting the It with matter fittle to the people to know who fires the first gnu. The horrors of cavil war are not averted by shifting the origin from one party to the other. But Mr. Lincoln will not be held gniltless, either by the American people or the civilized world, if he adopt a fine of policy sure to result in war aven. lized world, if he adopt a fine of policy sure to result in war, even though he succeed in forcing the Confederate States to commence the attack. He had a simple question to determine—a question not of union or disunion, but of Peace or War. He had either to reconvene Congress and recommend the recognition of the Southern Republic, or he had to ignore its existence and proceed to maintain the supremacy of this government in all the States. The first was the Peace policy, the latter the War policy. He has announced his purpose, and with the luture so clear before him, he cannot escape responsibility hy so manuvering as to clicit the first shot from the South.

THE RIVER was slowly receding yesterday, about two lnehes in twenty four hours at the head of the Falls, with nine feet seven inches water in the canalty the were six feet seven inches steamboat water for descending boats, and a little over five feet up the middle chute. The weather has again become clear and pleasant.

At Clucinnatt, at noon yesterday, the river had fallen twenty-one inches, and it will be falling pretty fast here to-day.

At Pittsburg, on the contrary, it was rising again yesterday, with eleven feet water in the channel. That keeps the Ohio in a good navigable condition, and high enough to float out another coal fleet.

to float out another coal fleet. To host out another coal fleet.

Coal is arriving in profuse abundance, the fast towboat Eagle couling in yesterday with a heavy fleet of barges, containing 100,000 bushels of choice Piusburg coad, all for this market. It is the venture of Charley Miller & Co., of this city, who of Charley Americal Contracts.

The Niagara, a towloat, descended the Falls early yesterday with a fleet of seven barges of coal, all lor Memphis.

Several of the broad horn fleet of coal-boats are due to-day, as well as a few more temberts.

The M. McLellan did not arrive from Memphis yesterday as expected. She was due last night, and returns to Mem-phis and all way places this evening. The clerk is our conrecous young friend Lawis Sherley.

The Alma, Capt. Archer, is expected at the wharf to-day, on route for Moniphis.— Passengers and shippers can rely upon Capt. Archer.

The Sam Kirkman is due from Memphis with 1,000 leales of cotton. The Messeuger came in from Memphis yesterday, flying light, the shipments of cotton last having been pretty well played ont.

TONAGE. — In alluding to the great disparagement between the measured tonage and the actual tonnage of the Maria Denning, yesterday, we might have made a still more favorable illustration. It is very generally conceded that the is one of the mouster freight boats, and it is occasionally claimed that her espacity is equal to the burthen of 1,600 tous. Now, the New Uncle Sam is one of the largest boats on the river; was built expressly to on the river; was built expressly to carry a log load, and her Government measurement is 90 tous. That is an homest, full measure, as it admits her actual burthen to be about one-third more than her measurement. No boat was ever known to exceed it, though very many full far below this agreement wing to their shown to exteed it, independent and their sharp build. The New Unele Sam, can carry above 1350 tons, which is just one-third more than her measurement. The Maria Denuing measures 1341 tons, and has carried over 1500 tons. Her capenity has been havely coversited or a great mistake.

OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER, MONDAY EVEN'G, March 11, 1861. Monday Even's, March 11, 1861. In financial circles matters were more qulet to-day. The demand for money was small, and the banks seemed more disposed to discount than for several days past. The supply of currency, though light, is gradually increasing, and by the close of the present week we hope to be able to quote the money market in a very easy condition. Uncurrent money and exchange are the same as before reported. In the general market we have but little if any change to noic. Flour is firm, though quiet, with only a small demand for home consumption at the range of prices quoted in our last edition. The receipts of wheat are light, but equal to the demand, and the market closed quiet at $1 (2$1 for prime red and white. The demand for corn was small at former quotations. Outs rewards and dail.

The provision market was very firm to-day, with a greater disposition on the part of buyers to operate, and at the close puries were buoyant. The sales were 755 bbls mess pork at $17@$17.25, the larger portion of the sales belong at the inside figure. The demand for bacon on Southportion of the sales belug at the inside figure. The demand for bacon on Southern orders was small, and prices remain unchanged. Bulk meats are dull, with nothing doing. Lard is quiet, with only a small demand.

COPFEE.—There has been quite an active inquiry for coffee throughout the week, but there has been a great scarcity of prime grades, and this, compled with the fact that loiders have leen demanding higher rates, has greatly restricted transactions. There is quite a good stock of inferior grades, but the trade generally do not seem disposed to purchase this description. The sales for the week were consquently light, and foot up only 2,300 hags, as follows, viz: 300 hags damaged Rio at 11\(\frac{1}{2}\), \(\frac{1}{2}\), 1,000 bags fair do, at 12\(\frac{1}{2}\), \(\frac{1}{2}\), and 331

he past week was rather inactive, and almost ever article under this head has had rather a hirooping tendency. The advices from the West have not been quite so favorable to holders, hence the latter have shown more dispection to sell; but the trade have been purchasing sparingly, as their business with the South has fullen off materially during the past week. This, however, was in a great measure owing to the difficulty of procuring vessels to got southern parts. The market at the close of the week was dull and drooping.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES. EXTRA SESSION OF THE SENATE.

Monday's Proce Minas.

WASHINGTON, Misrell II.—Senate—The Senate resumed the consideration of Mr. Foster's resolution for the expulsion of Senator Wigfall and of Clingman's subclose of the present week we hope to be able to quote the money market in a very casy condition. Unenrrent money and exchange are the same as before reported. In the general market we have but little general market we have but little from the general market we have but little from the general market we have but little for hope on the general market we have but little from the general market we have but little from the general market we have but little from the considering the avowal of the Senator. He differed nitogether from Mr. Clingman for home consumption at the range of prices quoted in our last edition. The receipts of wheat are light, but equal to the demand, and the market closed quiet it $1.00 for prime red and white. The demand for corn was small at former quotations. Oats remain quiet and dull.

Grecerles are firm but prices are unchanged.

The provision market was very firm today, with a greater disposition on the part of buyers to operate, and at the olose prices were howant. The sales were 755 bills meas pork at $1.70.817.95, the large very large at the same as before reported.

Mr. FOSTER had offered a resolution neither as a party nor personal question, and they as a party nor personal question, with and acted in accordance with his duty, considering the avowal of the Senator. He differed integers from the avowal of the Senator. He differed nitogether from Mr. Clingman of the Union. Mr. Foster said that the Senator when a description whether a Sade has the right, under the Constitution, to go out of the Union. Mr. Foster said that the Senator when a differed in together from Mr. Clingman of the Union. Mr. Foster said that the Senator when a different integer and of the Question, and the avowal of the Senator. He differed intogether from Mr. Clingman of the Union. Mr. Foster said that the Senator and one altegiance to the Constitution, to go out of the Union. Mr. Foster said that the Senate one who avowed that he was a foreigner, and oved in a altegiance to the constitution, to go out of the Unio bjection, and it was inconsistent to allow e so circumstanced to hold a scat here of artis and forts, for (Chagman) did not think the avowal of Wigfall a sufficient ground for his expulsion. He continued at some length, arguing that the course of the Semaor from Connectiont was not a proper one.

Mr. MASON contended that the resolution was one of expulsion for what the Senator from Texas said on this theor, and he said if Mr. Fosterthought that Wighth ought not to occupy his seat because he was not a citizen, he ought to move to re-fer the subject to a committee, so that if the facts warrant it the sear night be detacts warrant it, the seat might be d clared vacant.

Mr. FOSTER asked whether after the Senator from Texas had been duly elected by his State and admitted as a member here, they could inquire into the begality by which he held his sear, by a new fact arising which did not exist at that time.

Mr. MASTIN was very certain that if the Senator was not entitled to his seat, it could be vacated whenever a fact warranting such a course should be disclosed,—the defended the course of Wigfall, and said: If it be a punishable offense to allege a constitutional truth, then the resolution may be well founded. For one, he iege a constitutional truth, then the resonation may be well founded. For one, he recognized no allegiance to this Government—none whatever, and took his position alongside the Senator from Texas, He owed allegiance to Virginia and nowhere else. Did the Senator from Louncetient resist the doctrine of constitutional law, and hold the Covernment of the United and hold the Government of the said nort the Government of the Unite States still sovereign? If he did, Go belp him. So far as the Senate from Texas has committed any of feuse by saying that he owed no all giance to the Government, he stood by his large of the Government of the Governm ide, and should be untaithful to Virgin if he did not. Allegiance here is that which is due from a citizen to a sovereign power, and he knew no sovereign except the State. He denied that the act of separation was a coullity, and said that not only Virginia denied it, but six States healed such a doctrine, and have formed a Government and prepared to sustain it if attacked.

Mr. HUNTER considered the resolution is out of censure for the intre expression of opinion, the Senator from Texas having one nothing more than declare his belief i secession, and Mr. II. continued at ingth, advocating State Rights. The Senate then went into Executive ssion, and subsequently adjourned From Washington. WASHINGTON, March 11 .- An official let Washington, March II.—An official letter from Maj. Anderson, which arrived on Saturday, says he only had provisions and wood for fifteen days. The question has therefore arisen with the administration whether to attempt reinforcements or the fort be abandoned. The latter course, it is thought, will be adopted from necessity, by advice of Lientenant General Scott. There is, however, a conflict of opinion between Republicans on this question; but no conclusion arrived at in Cabinet conneil to-day.
